

Cultural intellectual show (8 класс).

Greeting: Hello, ladies and gentlemen! We are glad to see you at our cultural intellectual show.

1. Every nation has got its own customs and traditions. The culture of each nation is really unequalled.
2. As well as national costume, national dishes and a national sport, a nation should have a dance. Argentina has its tango, Poland has the polka, Russia has the russkaya plyasovaya and England has the Morris.
3. Every May Day outside the village pubs of England you can see colorfully dressed people gimping into the air, waving handkerchiefs and sticks with bells jingling from their clothing. They perform a traditional Morris dance and welcome the return of spring.

Let's sing and dance.

Spring is here, spring is here
That's what people say.
The birds are flying north again
To wake us every day.

Spring is here, spring is here
That's what people say
We can run and jump again
We out our sled away.

Contest 2. Read some information about books by British writers and try to guess what they are.

1. The Prince and the Pauper by Mark Twain.

The prince began to take off his fine clothes, and Tom took off his old clothes and put on the clothes of the Prince. Tom looked at the prince as he stood there dressed in tom's clothes. He had seen someone very like him before. Where had he seen him? "Come and look at us at the glass" – cried the prince. They were just like each other.

2. Gulliver's travels by Jonathan Swift.

I had slept for many hours. When I awoke it was just daylight. I tried to get up from the ground, but I could not move. My arms and feet were held down to the ground with strings. I heard some noise around me, but I could see nothing. In a little time I felt something alive moving on my foot, then it came over my body and up to my face. Turning my eyes down as much as I could, I saw a man. He was less than 15 centimeters high.

3. Alice's Adventures in Wonderland by Lewis Carroll.

Alice and her big sister were sitting on the grass. Her sister was reading a book, but Alice had nothing to read. She was too sleepy... Just then, a white rabbit ran by, very near to her. That does not happen every day, but Alice did not wonder when the rabbit took a watch out of its pocket and looked at it.

4. The jungle book by Rudyard Kipling

At seven o'clock at a hot evening in the Seonee hills, Father Wolf woke up. There was a little animal in the mouth of the cave. It was Tabaqui, the jackal. The wolves of India don't like Tabaqui. He makes trouble, Father Wolf could see from Tabaqui's eyes that he wanted to make trouble now. Shere Khan the Big one, has changed his hunting grounds," – Tabaqui said.

5. King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table.

There were 150 places at the table. Each knight had his name written in his place. There were one hundred and twenty-eight knights at the table. As time went on other brave and good knights came, and King Arthur gave them places. One place was not filled for a long time. That place was for a knight who had never done any bad thing to any one. It was called the Seat Perilous: if a bad man sat in it, he would die. After many years sir Galahad came and was given that place.

6. When he awoke it was evening and the storm had already finished. The ship was seen not very far but a half of it was under the water. Having got to the ship, a man started to look for the instruments which he needed to build a raft. The things which were useful for him were there in two big boxes. The man took some clothes, dishes, an English flag and some food. So he could start the work.

Robinson Crusoe by Daniel Defoe.

7. Romeo and Juley by William Shakespeare.

When a dancing ball started, he saw a young and very beautiful girl. She was so nice that he fell in love with her and forgot about Rosalina at once. He came to her and was going to start a conversation but her cousin Tibolt appeared at that very moment. The young men were ready to fight but Capulet interfered and the young man had to go away. But he did not go home. He went to Capulet's garden and found a place under the balcony of his lover.

8. It was a wonderful summer day. It was Sunday and he did not have to go to school. But he had to work that day. He had to paint that fence. Life was too hard on him. The fence was long and high.

The adventures of Tom Coyer by Mark Twain.

9. She was as black as ink. There was nobody in the jungles who wanted to fight with her, because she was strong, clever and unfeared. But her voice was as sweet as honey and her skin was lighter than down.
